Project Update - #10

CTH-G Bridge over Honey Creek

November 6, 2018

The CTH-G Bridge over Honey Creek is now Open to Traffic. We greatly appreciate everyone's patience and cooperation during construction. We understand these projects can be very disruptive, however they are necessary to maintain and improve the County's transportation infrastructure. The CTH-G bridge replacement project was moved into the County's Capital Improvement Plan in June of 2017. This project was designed, permitted, publically bid and constructed in less than 17 months. With proper inspection and maintenance, this new bridge will serve the public until at least the year 2093.

This will be the final update for this project. Please note that there are still a few miscellaneous items to complete which will be addressed while the road is open to traffic. Workers will still be present at the site and your attention to safety is greatly appreciated.
