Recycling & Disposal Options For Special Waste Items

If the municipality you live in contracts with a waste hauler to provide recycling services for its residents the following items may be collected at the curb or your recycling drop-off location: appliances, used motor oil, tires, or vehicle batteries. Contact your waste hauler or municipal clerk to see if these items are collected where you live, and if any charges, quantity limitations or other restrictions apply.

At the time of publication, the businesses shown in this directory offered services in the category listed. Please contact those whose services you may need to confirm current program requirements, limitations, and any charges that may apply. This listing is not an endorsement for any business, service, product or resource. Any omissions are unintentional.

Every effort has been made to ensure accuracy. Additions or corrections for future publications can be directed to the Solid Waste Division of the Walworth County Public Works Department at: walcosw@co.walworth.wi.us

Propane Tank Recycling
Please contact any collector you are interested in to confirm program requirements. Small propane canisters used for camping stoves and lanterns can be disposed of by following these instructions: 1) Attach the canister to the device it is used with, 2) Turn the gas on and light the device, allowing the gas to run until the canister is completely empty. 3) Remove the canister and dispose of it in your normal trash container. Write "empty" on the side of the canister to remind yourself and to notify anyone handling it that it is empty. Small propane canisters are highly pressurized when full so never attempt to puncture or open the valve manually.

Smoke Alarm/Detector Disposal

Most smoke detectors contain a small amount of Americium 241, a radioactive material. When being used properly the device poses no risk to the user, and only when broken is there any risk of exposure.

By Federal law manufacturers of smoke detectors must accept returned radioactive detectors for disposal as hazardous waste. The address of the supplier can usually be found on the back of the smoke detector, listed in the product warranty or user's manual, or can be found online. The smoke detector can be shipped like any other piece of mail and a note should be included stating "for disposal." It is legal to dispose of smoke detectors in your household trash but recycling is highly recommended.

DP Electronic Recycling, Elkhorn, 723-2550 will accept smoke detectors.
